MR. MARTIN DECRIBES TESTERDAY'S SCENE.

Cheerful—The Hearing at Jefferson City
To-Merrow.

By Teigraph to the Poet-Disparch.

Jefferson City, Mo., August 7.—Gov. Morehouse has nothing further to say to day concerning the Maxwell case. He has firmly made up his mind that new and, it might be said, extraordinary testimony will be necessary to justify the interposition of his elemency or to cause further delay of the execution of Maxwell. It is prestypositively known here that this extraordinary testimony will be offered to morrow when Messrs. Martin and Fauntieroy appear before the Governor to ask for a respite for their client. The news has leaked out that Maxwell statement to ask for a respite for their client. The news has leaked out that Maxwell statement to be, cannot fall to secure the interference of the Governor and not only delay the execution, but make a new trial-imporative. The affidavits relate to

Mr. Martin, thinking that the Governor's remarks had an inference which reflected on him and Mr. Fauntieroy, responded rather warmly that they had not trifled with the case, but were performing their duty and wanted the Governor to do likewise.

The Governor, seeing the mistaken impression which his remark had given, immediately soothed the attorneys' ruffled feelings.

"You have performed your duty well," he said, "but new and sufficient reasons must be presented or I will not reopen the case."

Mr. Fauntieroy suggested that the application of the British Government for a delay ought in itself be sufficient grounds for a delay, as justice could in no wise suffer by a postponement of the execution of the sentence.

"I can see none. As the Governor says, the chances are 1,000 to one against him. Gov. Morehouse has acted as I thought he would in ignoring the British Minister's request, and I id an see nothing for Maxwell to look forward to but death."

"But suppose his attorneys present new evidence tending to show that some of the pure in the case were prejudiced, would that not be apt to secure him a commutation?"

"No, I think not. The Governor wants proof of Maxwell's innocence, I think, before he will interfere, and that cannot be produced by the defense."

Mr. Clover's assistant, was present when the interview took place, and he was asked what he thought of Maxwell's chances.

"I think he will hang beyond doubt next Friday," was the response.

"But if new evidence is produced in regard to the jurors in the case being prejudiced and expressing themselves about the case, might not a commutation be granted?"

"'I think not, and in fact I doubt whether they have any new evidence."

"'Yes, they have." remarked Mr. Clover. They have two or three new affidavits I am pretty certain. They don't amount to much however, as there is a dirty little factional fight going on in Coulahan's ward, and it is not much trouble to get some of the members of one faction to swear to anything concerning a member of the opposite faction."

"Well," concluded Mr. Bishop, "even if evidence is produced to show that some of the jurors were prejudiced it is not apt to have much weight with the Governor as he will think it could and should have been presented before."

GALLANT "LITTLE PHIL" BLUSHED. A Pleasant Local Reminiscence of the Fa-

There is a local incident connected with th history of Gen. Sheridan which probably curred during his life. It took place at the last reunion that the Army of the Tennessee neld in this city, which was about seven or eight years ago. Gens. Sherman and Sheridan and many other distinguished soldiers of the civil years ago. Gens. Sherman and Sheridan and many other distinguished soldiers of the civil war were present. Gen. Sherman made a remark which was responsible for the incident referred to. When Gen. A. J. Smith was called on for a speech he declined, being a man very similar in point of modesty to Sheridan, who, as is well known, would ten times rather have faced a battery than make a speech. The audience insisted on Gen. Smith addressing them, but he was obdurate. Gen. Sherman shen arose, and stepping to the front of the stage said that he had never known Gen. Smith to faiter before a crowd of soldiers before, but his fear to face them, he had no dubt, was due to the fact that he did not have even a single battery to make a charge. This saily caused a good laugh at Gen. Smith's expense and everybody was in great humor. Their high spirit caused a general call for Charles Pope, who was in the audience, to recite "Sheridan's Ride." The calls terrified modest, bashful "Luttle Phil" more than the reports of so many cannons would have done. In vain he protested. The crowd, however, was determined to hear Reid's great poem in the presence of the hero whose exploit inspired is. Mr. Pope took the platform and the hubbut cased. There was a death-like stillness as he advanced to the feotlights and began:

THE HOUSE COMMITTEE INVESTIGATING THE WHISKY TRUST.

Mr. Greenhut Furnishes Some Interesting Facts and Figures—No Protection Needed Against Foreign Competition—The Senate Working on Its Tariff Bill—Proceedings

WASHINGTON, D. C., August 7 .- The House committee on Manufactures to-day resumed Its inquiry into the whisky trust. Joseph B. Greenhut of Peoria, Ill., President of the Great Western Whisky Trust, produced the articles of agreement among eighty-one organizations, forming the basis of the trust, and explained that all of the property and capital of the distillers was pooled and certificates of stock issued. The organ-izations composing the trusts are located in the States of Illinois, Ohio, Indiana, Wisconsin the agreement recites that the purpose of the trust is to secure intelligent co-operation in live stock and for the sale of the products in the home and foreign markets. A board controls the operations of the trust. Mr. Green-hut explained that the organization was a cooperative concern, intend to insure intelligent concerted action, but not to corner the markets.

It is at the same time giving brief, informal hearings to all who come. It begins this morning the final revision of the measure in detail and hopes to have the work completed this week. There is a probability that three or four controverted points will be passed over by the subcommittee for the present, and a possibility that they may be submitted to a caucus for ultimate decision. The regular weekly meeting of the Finance Committee, which takes place Tuesday, was not held to-day. It is not expected that the Democrats of the Finance Committee will care to delay the measures in the committee, but it is shought probable they will reserve such criticism as they may have to make, for the debate in open session.

ATTACKED BY A VIBAGO.

A row occurred at 8 o'clock this morning at the saloon of William W. Wooley, 1201 Pine street, between Laura Reed and Lillie Sprinkett, in which the latter was terribly beaten. The Reed woman was jealous of the attentions the saloon-keeper had been paying the Sprinkett woman, and this morning she picked up a beer glass and pounded her rival in the face with it. The attack was most brutal, the Reed woman striking her victim blow after blow before she deceased. She had broken pleces of the glass out by the blows but kept up pounding with the broken glass. When he had finished the face of his victim contained eight separate cuts, ranging from one inch to four inches in length and all about a quarter of an inch deep. The injured woman was taken to the City Dispensary, where Dr. Steinmetz placed fifty-six stitches in her wounds. He said that if erysipelas set in the wound be likely to prove fatal. Wooley had her removed to his place, where she now lies. After Sprinkett, in which the latter was terribly

thers Opposed to Making Any Concessions to the Glover, Morehouse and Cisiberne Factions—The Representation That Was Given—Francis Delegates Selected—Meet-ing of the Hendricks Association—Hallies

The subcommittee of the Democratic City Committee has decided to officially call upon the Recorder to ascertain his views on the poll-book preposition and to be ready to re-port to the meeting to be held to-morrow evening. Several members of the City Com-mittee have waited on the Recorder and are familiar with his position. He is willing to facilitate the work of holding an honest primary and disposed to recognize the exist-ing party organization before any other polit-ical association. The Eighth, Eighteenth and Twenty-first Wards have mede formal re-quests for the use of the books. The commit-teemen of the Ninth, Twenth-seventh, Twentyeighth and some other wards have expressed their intention of using the books. Some of the committeemen object to the condition that the Recorder must appoint the deputies to take charge of the books. The Recorder has in this respect conceded as much as he can. To-day he said: "In looking over the lists of judges I find there are a number of very good names. Some of them I know, and I am ready to entrust the books to their care, wearing them in as deputies. But in many nstances I do not know any of the judges, and I can say positively that in such cases I will not permit the use of the books except in charge of a deputy of my own selection. is final. I am ready to meet the comis final. I am ready to meet the committee half way on any fair proposition they may make. I have not yet seen the subcommittee which it was reported was appointed to report on this matter."

The committee will meet to-morrow evening, when the poil book question will be passed upon. So far be Francis forces in the committee have managed their side of the case well, as recards the execution of their plans. By formal resolution they proposed to give representation at the poils. The committee in charge of the St. Louis end of the Giover, Morehouse and Claiborne fights then submitted for each ward a number of names from whigh to select anti-Francis representatives. Half an hour before this was done several of the committeemen had decided to ignore the resolution and the committee rule, and to refuse representation to opposing delegations.

Ignore the resolution and the committee rule, and to refuse representation to opposing delegations.

Messrs. Guthrie, Lutz, Morris and Freudenau were told as much. On looking over the lists they found the opening that was wanted. On nearly every list was found the name of some man who could easily be controlled by the committeeman. It was then decided to give "representation." In this way the Glover, Claiborne and Morehouse men hurt their own cause and assisted in making the committee's scheme less irregular without securing any better guarantee of fairness.

To completely disarm the opposition some of the Francis men in the committee propose to accept the Recorder's books for use at the primaries. The anti-Francis men admit now that if this is done they will lose their strongest arguments before a committee on credentials, and while they will shut out a lot of ward repeaters who cannot work if the lists are used, the returns will be in the hands of the enemy as the representation given them will not guard their interests. Mayor Francis in his own ward requested that the books be used as he wanted to give as little ground for contest as possible. When the plan to accept the books and take all the wind out of the sails of the opposition thereby, was submitted to Ed Butler he was not taken with the idea. He said: "What's the use of doing that? You can't satisfy those fellows and there is no use trying. I'm willing, however, because I think Francis will carry evely ward in the city."

An open-air meeeting of Fourth Ward Dem ocrats will be held to night at Broadway and rangements have been made by both the Republican and Times proprietors to issue their papers on time. Nothing definite is known as to the origin of the configration. Death of the New York Actor at

By Telegraph to the Poet-DEPATCH.

CHEYENNE, Wyo., August 7.—William Davidge, leading old man of the Palmer Co., en route for San Francisco, died suddenly here this morning. His death was caused by heart failure superinduced by this altitude.

The Dead Actor's Career.

Mr. Davidge is well-known in St. Louis, for years ago he acted here, and off and on he has been in the city with passing shews with which he was at times connected. He is one of the old-time actors and his reputation extends over the whole country. He was brought here from England during the season of 180-1 by Thomas Harry, then manager for E. O. Marshall, who at the same time brought Mme. Parnesis, Fred Conway, Adelaide Ingruhein and her sister, and several others who afterward became known in the theatrical world. They played at the old Broadway Theater, on Leonard street, New York, and in the same company was Mrs. Vincent, who is now connected with Pain's "Last Days of Pompell." Davidge received his training in Murray's celebrated Edinburgh company, When he left it he went to London and played in all the principal theaters there before coming to this country. After playing at the Broadway he went to New Orleans with Orisp's company in 180-5, and subsequently he played in Burton's famous company on Chambers street, where Florence, Couldock and Mary Taylor and others, who have since become stars, were playing. It was one of the finest companies ever got together. Davidge starred during the summer seasons in Canada, and was a great favorite there. He has played, in his time, every line in the legitimate drama, and was always regarded as one of the most conscientious and reliable actors on the stage. He never drank or smoked and was always ready for his part when the evening came. Old Davidge's well marked prompt books were known to all theatrical people, and those who were studying parts were looked upon as fortunate if they could secure one of his books to study from. No man in the theatrient world was better known than he, and his death will be heard of with regret. For two years he has been connected with Palmer's "Jim, the Penman," Co., and he had become a part of the organization. He was with the company when he died.

ing the demonstrations all over the country in favor of one side or the other in politics in Noblemen's Park and elsewhere. The fashion of combining political gatherings with swings, roundabouts, captive balloons and meeting in the beautiful grounds of Lord Leigh's Park, in Warwickshire, that the Unionists had given up argument and resorted to tion. salumny, Balfour was saying precisely the same thing of the Liberals at the Tory out-door fete at Lord Aberg Avenny's seat at Tumbridge Wells, where an ox was reasted whole in honor of the occasion. Most people, however, in spite of the rather cheerless weather, gave themselves up unreservedly to amusement. It is evident that the bank holiday which was unknown in England only a generation ago, has already become the greatest of popular holidays of the year, not only in ndon but in every part of England. The day was unfortunately marked by an occur-rence at the Irish Exhibition in London, where a young woman met a frightful death on the toboggan slide, the first accident of this kind in this country since tobogganing was intro-duced. She was sitting back to back with a male companion and had gone down the ining platform, when her hat blew off, she leane against the steel rails at the side. She fell backwards and was dragged along with her head bumping violently against the track. Her skull was fractured and she was disfigured beyond recognition. Strange to say, her companion knew nothing of the accident arrived at the end of the journey. TRIBUTES TO GEN. SHERIDAN.

BOUGH ON BANDMANN. Bandmann's version of "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde," coming after the brilliant success that Mansfield has made, was a ludicrous failure. tunate mishap in the stage-setting and some absurdities of dialogue intended as humor, the performance amounted to little more than a burlesque. The audience laughed im-moderately on all sorts of inopportune occasions, to the evident discomfort of the actors.

If George Grossmith's burlesque of "Hyde and Jekyll' produces half so much merrione or two exceptions Bandmann's version of the play is the same as he produced in New York. After the last act Bandmann ch. He said that at any rate he was not a debutante in London, and was not going to wash dirty linen on the stage. He threw himself on the law and the generosity of the press and public.

Mr. Mansfield said yesterday that he should probably make no attempt to prevent Band eral suspicion that he will do all he can to encourage it for the present. The alleged war fare is a tremendous advertisement. The London papers yesterday treated Mansfield yery kindly though they severely condemn the play. All criticism of Mansfield's acting is in a kindly spirit. Clement Scott, in the Telegraph, says: "The play is morbid and gruesome, a chapter of useless physiological analysis, unrelieved by one touch of human-ity." But of Mansfield he says: "He has ne, and has been seen, and has conque As an actor he has remarkable power and intelligence." BEAUTIFUL NEW RESIDENCE PLACE IN

Cabanne Piace—An Artistic Entrance Gate—Some of the People Who Will Live There—The Harrison Wire Mill To Go To

may be said to have been the only exclusive residence spot in the city, made especially at-tractive by a judicious and harmonious combination of enterprise, wealth and art, where bination of enterprise, wealth and art, where the luxuries of elegant homes could be most perfectly enjoyed se-cure from objectionable influences and the noise and bustle incident to public thoroughfares. The success of this venture proved to be such a paying investment to the promoters of it that their example has been followed by many other persons in beautifying a number of suburban places several of which compare, in the character of their im-provements, most favorably with the original model in artistic effects.

In this respect West Cabanne place has been prominently brought to notice by means of a arge outlay of money in providing the property with a superior order of improvement and handsome decorations. Of these adornplace, a cut of which is herewith given, is a for the purpose intended.

The Artistic Entrance.

This ornate passage way is through a low wall of red granite designed like the parapet of an old castle, and is partly rustic. Huge blocks of rough and odd-shaped granite from the quarry flanking each side of the carriage way, the top sufficiently leveled to receive the bases for the lamps. These lamps are something unique. The standards are of specially designed wrought from surmounted with square lanterns of polished brass and beveled plate glass reaching to the height of about fitteen feet.

THE BLOCKS OF ROUGH GRANITE, square lanterns of polished brass and beveled plate glass reaching to the height of about fifteen feet.

THE BLOCKS OF ROUGH GRANITE, which serve as wheel feaders, show an ingenious novelty in being pierced for a gutterway underneath. On either side of the roadway openings in the wall allow for continuous sidewalks. Large iron vaces placed upon pedestals at the walk entrances are to be filled with growing flowers and vines.

As the name suggests, this property adjoins the well known Cabanne place proper on the west. Its owner, George Townsend, has carried on the improvements regardless of expense, believing that the returns from the sale of lots would justify the outlay. To most certainly accomplish this he has reserved all rights regarding streets, etc. A compulsory building line between house-fronts on the place makes the intervening space 160 feet wide and the usual restrictions incorporated into deeds guarantee purchasers from nuisances of all kinds.

The lots are nearly 100 feet front by a depth of 212, all above grade, and the improvements consist of a 40-foot graveled park road, with a rip-rap stone bed, thoroughly roiled. There are 5-foot stone walks, bordered with grass plats, and trees on either side, and the curb and gutter are made of red granifold. Underlying these is an 18-inch sewer, with connections for every lot, and each lot is fenced off front and rear, and numbers of shade trees have been planted upon them.

The sales of lots that have been made there since the inauguration of this elaborate system of improvements indicated that the enterprise of Mr. Townsend is justly appreciated.

cottage lot, No. 25, and proposes to occupy the premises next week.

These transactions are quite sufficient to prove that property in that locality has not fallen from favor. In fact, it is authoritively stated that 1,200 feet front of West Cabanne place alone has been sold since February last, a fact which goes to show that first-class improvements will sell good residence land.

The Pretty New Depot.

The Pretty New Depot.

The new depot which has just been completed is another attraction which Mr. Townsend's enterprise has provided, with the cooperation of the St. Louis Cable & Western Railway management. It is doubtless one of the most artistic depots on the line, a pleasure not only to the present and prospective residents of West Cabanne place but to the occupants of a great many other homes in the immediate vicinity as well. The interior of this pretty waiting place is artistically finished in hard wood, making it pleasant to remain there during a brief time between trains that pass each way at short intervals.

THE OLD HARRISON WIRE MILL.

It was stated this morning that the old machinery of the abandoned Harrison wire mill, which was bought about a year ago at the trustee's sale by Geo. C. McDonald and W. S. Anderson, had been purchased for $25,000 by S. F. & T. A. Scott.

Speaking of this matter T. A. Scott said the machinery was to be removed to Kansas City, where a wire mill was to be put in operation, and in order to secure such an industrial plant the citizens of the town had made his firm a sufficient inducement, therefore, there is no doubt that the city at the mouth of the flaw will shortly make an experiment at wire-making. It is a well-known fact that various attempts have been made to utilize this old machinery here, but the competition of mills equipped with all the latest devices for wire-making. The Anderson-Wade Real Estate Co. report the sale of thirteen lots of $25,180 feet in Green Lea place, between Ware and Clay avenues, at $11 a foot. This property belonged to B. F. Hammett, President of the company, and it was purchased by W. H. Shea, the builder, who is going to improve it with moderate size dwellings suitable to that locality.

The sale of a very remuserative piece of business property on Market street was consummated by Adam Boeck & Co. for $11,000. The premises consist of the two-story brick houses at the southwest corner of Market and Moore streets numbered 168, 1690 and 162

These houses are now used for stores and boarding-house purposes, were erected by Jacob Ambs about ten years are, and are and under a two-year lease, renting for $1,200 per annum, which affords a handsome return upon the investment. D. H. Ferguson as trustee for the owners of the property, will convey it to the purchaser, S. L. Krasmer.

Charles H. Gleason sold the six-room brick dweiling and 20x11-toot lot numbered 122 Morgan street, the property of E. L. Bartram, for $2,500.to C. Dessauer.

Terry & Scott report the sale of 50x124 feet of ground on the north side of Caroline street in city block 1818, between Ohlo and California avenues, from Christ Church to Edward Stown at $20 a foot.

ing cat made its appearance in the porter's room, and by actions that are proverbially more eloquent than words indicated its carnest desire for the inxury of a square meal, to which it had long been a stranger. The kind-heured employes took pity upon the foriorn condition of the animal, and amply provided for its wants.

After a few days' high feeding had recuperated its energies the cat set about making some return, and the benevolent hosts were astonished to find that they had been entertaining an angel unaware. As soon as the animal's ribs ceased to stand out through its hide like the rafters of a house, and its fur had resumed its pristine slickness, it sought a spot where it would have free access to the street, and found this at the baggage-room door on the south side of the Planters' House. Here the cat curied itself up, and apparently sank into a deep and peaceful slumber. Presently a handsome hunting dog belonging to a broker occupying an office in the neighborhood, came along the street. As it approached, the cat was observed to raise its head, but almost immediately relapsed into an excellent counterfeit of sleep. But no sooner had the unsuspicious setter passed, than the cat was awakened as if by magic. Bounding to its feet, it made a tremendous spring, and lighted upon the shoulders of the dog, where it began to ply teeth and claws in a manner that unmistakably betokened long practice and filled the delighted spectators with enthusiam. The surprised and lacerated dog set up a howl, and tried to rid himself of his assailant; but all his efforts proved futile. In vain he bit, snapped, rolled in the gutter, and shook himself in agony. The cat momentarily dismounted, sprang again and again upon its unwilling steed, and never ceased exercising its keen claws. After a struggle of four or five minutes, the defeated canine fairly turned tail, and fied at top speed toward the river, rending the air with his plaintive howls.

The cat, with an expression of great satisfaction upon its countenance, resumed it

Mrs. Zimmerle, Formerly of St. Louis.

Suicides at Dallas, Tex. By Telegraph to the Post-Disparch. Dallas, Tex., August 7.-Mrs. Zimmerle, s friendless young woman, committed suicide ate last night at the Hilliger Cottage on Cottonwood and Tenth streets, in the identical room where Annie Bailey suicided two weeks ago. The deceased arrived in Dallas last Thursday from San Antonio and took up lodg ings at Mrs. Hilliger's place, where she gave her name as Miss Lizzie Switzer. She stated to some parties that all her friends had "gone back" on her except her mother, from whom she was expecting a letter. About 80 clock last night she went out walking. Two hours later she returned and was taken sick. At first it was thought that there was nothing serious the matter with her, but her true condition was discovered and then physicians were sent for, who found that she was suffering from morphine and past recovery. She died in a few hours. Through a letter found in her effects she was identified as Mrs. Zimmerle. Nothing could be learned of the young woman's history except that she came to Texas in 1885 from St. Louis, where her people are supposed to be residing. ings at Mrs. Hilliger's place, where she gave

A Bold Incendiary Attempt.

HAMPTON, Va., August 7-A bold attempt was made this morning to burn the business portion of the town. A large frame outbuilding filled with inflammable stuff was set on fire and had there been the least wind the town would have been destroyed. As it was, several buildings, the property of H. Coilier, and the roots of several stores were burned before the fire was gotten under control. This is the second occasion the attempt has been made to burn the town by setting fire to the same building in which the fire originated this time.

POMPEH WILL FALL,

But to Whose Music Is a Question Hard to | Will Johnson Stabs Tillie Cuvier-Merchi

There is a slight misunderstanding at the Kensington Gardens with reference to the music to be furnished accompanying the various stages of the great drama which tells the tale in pantomime of the destruction of Pompeii. The destruction of the city, hith-erto, has been artistically led up to with Pompeii. The destruction of the city, hitherto, has been artistically led up to with music, which though a triffe anachronistic was nevertheless entertaining. All this, however, is now a bit altered. The trouble appears to hinge on a determination of Mr. Tredway that the band led by Prof. Vogel was too large for the size of the city, and that if cut down about ten men the generous and voluptuous swell given out by twenty would be more suitable to the performance than that blown out by thirty artists, the number in Mr. Vogel's band.

From what could be gathered of the details of the misunderstanding it seems that Mr. Tredway requested Mr. Vogel to cut down the number of his men to ten.

NOW MR. VOGEL

claimed that he had an agreement with the managers of the gardens by which he was to furnish music for the opera and the "Fail" at the gardens for the entire season, the number of members in his band being thirty. Therefore when requested by Mr. Tredway to reduce that number he refused to do it, whereupon Mr. Tredway 'severed the connection' between the garden and the band at once, and immediately engaged Mr. Postle waite and his band to furnish volcano music for the rest of the season with twenty men. A contract to that effect was drawn up and signed by the parties, and Mr. Vogel was given to understand that his services were needed no longer. Mr. Vogel shought that these methods were not exactly according to his ideas of the eternal fitness of things and that was his reason for bringing the matter before the Musicians' Union. Committees were appointed to investigate the affair and they did. They heard Mr. Vogel's side of the affair, which was to the effect that Mr. Tredway sent for him and engaged him to play out the balance of the season with twenty men. Then the committee appointed to consult with Mr. Tredway took his testimony, which was to the effect simply that he had discharged Mr. Vogel and hired Mr. Postlewaite.

Yogel and hired Mr. Postlewaite.

then drew up their reports, which will be submitted to the Board of Directors of the union at its meeting next Thursday for action, which is to be finally submitted for final action to the union at its meeting on Fridgy. Just what the committee will advise is not positively known, but it is intimated that Mr. Vogel is much put out at Mr. Postlewaite.

PRESIDENT OWN.

not positively known, but it is intimated that Mr. Yogel is much put out at Mr. Postlewalte.

PRESIDENT OWEN MILLER of the union was seen to-day with reference to the matter and said: "What the union will do is not known. If the Kensington people really engaged both bands they will be held in law to pay both for the full term of their contracts. If on the contrary we find that one of the union members has engaged in any underhand work to cut out another he will be disciplined, as the laws of the union require. Further than that I will tell you nothing of the affair, as it is not in my province to give out the business of the union without authority." It would appear that in the shuffle the Kensington was left without its usual concert, though there was an immense crowd at the garden Sunday night. The only musicians present were concentrated in the person of a low-sized, heavy-set colored artist who endeavored to play five different instruments at once with only partial success. These were a mouth harmonica, a banjo, a snare drum, a pair of cymbals and a bass drum.

Just tojwhose music the City of Pompeli will 'permanently fall in the immediate future is a matter to be decided by the Musicians' Union, in the hands of which the music this evening, and it is stated that Mr. Postlewaite and his musicians would have played Sunday night had it not been that Mr. Postlewaite and his musicians would have played Sunday night had it not been that Mr. Postlewaite was under the erroneous impression that he was not to begin until this evening. The Musicians' Union have as yet taken no action in the matter, but will meet Thursday morning for that purpose.

THE STANDING ROCK CONFERENCE.

A New York Paper Comments on the Com missioners' Bulldozing Tactics. NEW YORK, August 7 .- In regard to the peare trying to gain the consent of three-fourths of the Indians at Standing Rock Agency to the surrender of a large portion of their reservathe commissioners are now doing is only too apparent. They are trying to buildoze the In-dians; trying to intimidate them into consent-dians; trying to intimidate them into consenting to the treaty, and, what is worst of all, trying to do this by alleging the dishonesty and perfidy of their own Government. The Sioux are plainly told that they must not rely upon the good faith of Congress or believe that it will keep its engagements and in the same breath they are childen because they suspect the sincerity of the Government in its promises of payment for their land. Surely cynleism can hardly go beyond the exhibition these commissioners are now making at Standing Rock. This is their idea of "negotiating a treaty," to threaten the other party with high-handed confiscation of their lands if they refuse to sell them for less than they believe them to be worth to a Government whose good faith they have already had a score of reasons for doubting. We are compelled to repeat what we have said before, that the most brutal and reckless estrure of Indian lands would be less discreditable than the methods at present being employed. If the country is not again to be disgraced by the immorality and baseness of its Indian policy, the commissioners at Standing Rock must be instructed to suspend their bulldozing tactics, and to tell the Indians that they are free to decide the question for themselves. In a word, the country must compel Congress to stand by its own laws, and the outrageous intimation that unless the Sionx yield to threats they will be plundered in cold blood by the people of the United States must be repudiated and rebuked emphatically."

The indications for every hours, commencing at 3 p. m. to-day, for Missouri are: Threatening weather, with rain and local storms; nearly stationary temnerature: variable winds.

LET the other fellows have a square deal: all we want is the Returning Board. -[Democratio City Committee.

ALL votes cast at the committee's primaries will be honestly counted provided they show majorities for the "Comitay."

Votes are pleasant little compliments to have around on election day, but as a means to success they cannot compare with a returning board.

In abusing Mr. GLOVER the Republican and assistant-Republican organs of Missouri are merely recognizing that he is a true Democrat and a dangerous opponent.

THE gallant six hundred of the Hen dricks Association have a stronger pull on the city treasury than the privates of the party, but the privates can outvote them at the primaries.

If there is any anti-Francis feeling among the Democracy of St. Louis it is chiefly due to the bull-dozing tactics of the Francis boomers, and it is more likely to increase than to decrease if thos tactics are continued.

WE are inclined to believe that some of the Democrats of St. Louis who do not live off of municipal patronage will object to having their delegations to the State Convention nominated for them in advance by the Central Committee.

BEN BUTLER says he belongs to neither party this year. This announcement ought to lift a load of anxiety from the minds of Chairmen QUAY and BRICE. As long as BEN is ranging around on the outside both parties have reason to feel grateful.

HARRISON has made twenty-nine speeches since his nomination, and the Indianapolis Journal says they were "all hummers." Nobody ever suggested "humming and hawing" in connection with the speeches of LINCOLN or GARFIELD, and none of the organs can hide the fact that they consider one blast from BLAINE's bugle-horn worth a thousand such speeches as HARRISON makes.

nate municipal officials should act as judge in the primaries Mayor FRANCIS shows a nice sense of regard for honest public opinion. The best thing about it is hat this display of virtue does not cost him a cent, inasmuch as eleven out of the twenty-eight members of the Returning the "pool" may be put on their guard. Board who pass on the returns of the Should any delinquent resert to stratagem judges hold office under the city government of which Mayor Francis is head.

IF FRANCIS is sweeping the interior of the State, as is claimed, he can afford to abide by the result of a fair primary in St. Louis. MARMADUKE was nominated and elected without a St. Louis delegation, and in spite of the politicians who have undertaken to pack a St. Louis delegation for Francis. They seem eager to put FRANCIS before the people as the Democratic nominee for Governor with a worse cloud on his title to the nomination than that which rested on his election as Mayor.

THE arrival of BLAINE and the great demonstrations over him will be a timely obscuration of HARRISON. The effort to work up enthusiasm for the Republican nominee by forwarding conscripted delegations to him in carload lots has proved a dismal failure, and the sooner he is overshadowed by BLAINE the better for his party. But Mr. BLAINE will find it harder to pull HARRISON and MORTON through than it was to do as much for GARFIELD and ARTHUR. The issues are as different as the men, and all the changes in the situation have told heavily against the Republican party.

This promises to be a year of political flops. The newspapers of both parties are filled with statements of men who declare that they intend to leave one or the other of the two parties. Most of the alleged flops may be put down as campaign trash, pure and simple, but there is one thing about them which is significant. This is that all the flopping to the Republicans is done by fattened manufacturers and rich monopolists who are sure that the Chicago platform offers better protection for their profits than the Democratic platform. They are the men who do not vote for the party or the public good, but for themselves.

WHILE some of the Republican leaders are opposing the Mills bill as a free trade neasure, others are opposing it as a proection measure. While KELLY and Mc-KINLEY oppose it because it gives free lumber, free wool, free tin plate and free salt and lowers the duty on rice and sugar, Senator PLUMB of Kansas and the Chicago Tribune oppose it because it stops at free trade in the other things named and does not give free trade in rice and sugar also. This simply shows that the low tariff extremists and the high tariff extremists of the Republican party can no more agree in framing a tariff reduction measure of their own than they can in giving reasons for opposing the Mills

The Regular Primaries.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch: this morning. I beg to say that the writer toment to secure fair primaries in certain of the wards of this city. The last Democratic City Convention and the rules of the Democratic City Committee alike decolare that each shall be entitled to a judge and clerk in each polling place. It is fair to presume that fraud is intended where this plain right is denied, as it is in over half the wards of this city to day. Neither will the committeemen of these wards accept the official lists of the Recorder of Voters as the basis of their action. Such primaries are, to say the least, irregular, The Democrats of the party thereupon call pri-maries of the party in a regular manner. This s a reserved right of the party necessary to the manner of the election depended upon the discretion of the individual commi there would be no rules laid down for his guidance. The question before the State Convention will be: which is the regular primary, that called by the party in the manner laid laws, and conducted under the State law upon the official list of voters required to be by that law, or that called by a fraudulent agent, who in departing from his instructions completely loses his authority, who in refusng a judge and clerk to the opposition anhis intention to commit fraud and who has no official list of voters as required by law and therefore has no means of knowing who are proper voters and who are not.

The issue will be fairly made before the conthose who know the temper of the party outside of the large cities.

If the friends of Mr. Francis desire to send any uncontested delegations to Jefferson City from St. Louis let them abandon the conspiracy to evade that provision of the constipressed in the by-law of the City Central Com

"In all primary elections each contesting delegation shall be entitled to name a judge and clerk of election," and the difficulty will be at an end in an hour.

In the event this is not done the path of the Democracy in the interior avoid many scandals in the future by forcing in city primaries for State offices, equal representation in the polls of all con-testing delegations. In that event the city of 8t. Louis will become safely Democratic, because the nominations will be made by the best sense of the party fairly expressed. They can do this by establishing a precedent in this contest that a primary election which does not provide for equal representation in the polls for contesting delegations is not regular. They could strike no surer blow to strengthen the party in Southwest Missouri and in other por-tions of the State which are not reliably Democratic. The frequently disfranchised majority of Democratic voters in the city of St. Louis will recognize this as an issue in which

The object is not to put up the price of board—though it is quite possible the taken by the managers later—but to secure the prompt payment of board bills. As soon as a boarder fails to settle his account on pay day a record of his delinquency is to be made and published, so that all the landladies in

When a contract for board is made, a picture of the new boarder must be furnished to the land-lady, not for publication, but as a guarantee of good faith. The photographs or tintypes thus added to the landlady's art collection will be used to ornament the parlor mantel standing. As soon as any boarder gets be-hindhand with his bills his picture can be removed from the house and sent the rounds of all the food-furnishing establishments in the town. The landladies seem to be thor-oughly in earnest, and if their trust is properly managed the dishonest boarder must go—away from Jeffersonville, at any rate. Perhaps he will remove across the river to Louisville rather than starve.

Thrifty St. Louis Aldermen.

From the Detroit Free Press.

For enterprise commend us to the St. Louis aldermen. Recently one of the members of that body died. The sum of $500 was appropriated for the funeral expenses. Of this amount, one-half, or $250, was paid the pre-siding officer, who is an undertaker, and who furnished the coffin and hearse, and the other stable keepers. Thus the whole sum was kept within the official family. But the Auditor of the city has refused to approve the bill and it now seems probable that the deceased Alderman was buried at the minimum cost.

and suffering which are the lot of the tenement-house children during the flerce heat of summer. Some one dooted up the flyries of the four trips made this year as compared with last season's record, and found the comparative totals most gratifying, the number of excursionists carried in July, 1837, being 6,630 against 7,450 for the four trips made last month. Special tickets are a feature now, and when some child who cannot possibly pass for a 6-year-old brings a recommendation from a physician, the ticket is honored and the boy or girl allowed to join the younger ones. The lower deck was fairly deserted to-day by reason of the dampness, but up above the rail was lined with excursionists. The children who can walk about come and go pretty much as they choose, and such is the vigitance of Capts. Thorwegan and Grissom that never has an accident befallen a Fresh Air excursionist during the nine years of the mission's life. The managers on board this morning were Mr. Alex Mastbrook and wife, Mrs. C. G. Keener, Mrs. Fim. Leavenworth, Mrs. Frank Roberts, Mrs. Sluder and Mrs. J. H. Barnard. Miss Lewis and Mrs Grant Tilden of the "Country Week" came down to see the boat off and make mental notes of the virtue of water as compared with land in the matter of health production. There was the usual abundance of good things for the excursionists, the donors being Comfort & Henry, who supplied 1,200 pounds of lee for the occasion; Dozier-Weyl, three boxes of orackers; T. H. Rockwood, five pounds and Ira Boutell. two pounds of the intermediate of the mission board, and by reason of the cold weather the former was served twice during the day to mothers of the children. The ladies of the mission brought their own lunches, for they are very careful to husband the resources of the sasolation, which have been materially increased of late by those two athletic events now passed into history, the base ball contests between the bankers and brokers and between the fat men. This morning sixty-six of the sixty-eight little ones who were sent to Doniphan returned, and while Miss Lewis was wondering and worrying over what had became of the missing two, she received a telegram stating that a brace of boys, hearing that their outing was shortly to end and that they must go back to St. Louis, took to the woods, declaring they intended remaining all summer if they had to forage for a living. At last accounts the youngsters were still foraging.

NATIONAL BAR ASSOCIATION.

First Annual Convention of the Organiza tion at Cleveland, O.

CLEVELAND, O., August 7 .- The first annual convention of the National Bar Association will be held here on Wednesday and Thurs-day. The association was formed in Washington on May 22, 1888, and its objects are as ington on May 22, 1888, and its objects are as follows:

To promote the unification, so far as practicable, of the laws of the various States which relate to matters in which the people of the United States have a common interest such as the laws of descent, of wills and conveyances, or marriage and divorce, of limitations of actions for the settlement of estates, the laws affecting comity between the States, the extradition of criminals, those concerning commercial paper, and all other laws which may from time to time be designated by the association as proper subjects of unification; to study the condition and promote the improvement of the judicial system of the States and of the United States; to promote among members of the association a knowledge of the laws of the various States; to consider the necessity and practicability of the establishments of international codes between civilized and commercial nations, to promote and extend acquaintance and fellowhip among the standards of profession in the United States; to devise methods for maintaining the standards of profession in the United States, and generally to promote the science of the law and the due administration of justice.

It was decided at a recent meeting in Washington to hold the first convention in Cleveland. Since then active correspondence has been kept up with the bar associations of the States. The result has been most satisfactory and it is expected that fully 500 delegates will be present.

PROTECTING OUR PISHERMEN.

NewPort, R. I., August 7.—The North Atlantic squadron, under control of Rear-Ad-miral Stephen B. Luce, has been ordered to proceed to the fishing grounds in the Gulf of St. Lawrence to look after the American intertion and assistance as they may require. The only available vessels now at anchor here are ests there and afford fishermen such protection and assistance as they may require. The only available vessels now at anchor here are the Corvette Galena, Commander Colby McChester: the Ossippe, Commander Wm. Bainbridge Hoff, and the Yantic, Commander Oscar A. Hyerman. The flagship Pensacola, Capt. A. B. Yates, is now undergoing extensive repairs at the Norfolk Navy Tard. The Navy Department has issued orders to Admiral Luce to send his snips North, as was done last year, and while everybody connected with the North Atlantic squadron here is trying to keep this important news from the public it was learned that the Corvette Ossippe had been ordered to prepare for sen at once. It is expected that she will sail from here for Halifax, Nova Scotia, Thursday or Friday next, with orders to communicate with our Consul-General there for further instructions. After leaving Halifax Capt. Hoff will cruise over the fishing-grounds, and later on visit our fishermen in the Gulf of St. Lawrence. The Ossippe is to board as many of our fishermen as possible and afford any and all assistance that they may require. Capt. Hoff told President Mahan of the War College yesterday afternoon that he had received official orders to sail Friday morning at latest for Halifax, Nova Scotia.

A GGOD MORAL EFFECT.

The Ossippe has coal enough on board to carry her to the fishing banks, having received a full supply while at Portsmouth Navy Yard a few weeks ago. She will be gone on this cruise about three or four weeks, and will then, unless her presence is absolutely necessary there, return to Newport. It is the desire of the Navy Department to have at least one of the News Department for have at least one of the News Department and the first protection and advice at all times. No troubles are expected, but it is thought that this will have a good moral effect upon our fishermen and impress unon their minds that the Government is looking after their interest ready and willing to afford them protection and advice at all times. After the Ossippe much better if the Navy Department would send one of the new cruisers north instead of dispatching those small vessels. The Galena is the best of the lot and the poor little Yantic is hardly able to get out of her own way. The only ship available for that duty is the steel cruiser Boston, now at the Brooklyn Navy Yard. She has not been to sea for over a year since she returned from her trial trip in Long Island Sound. The Atlanta, a sister ship of the Boston, is being overhauled now at the same station, and could not go to sea unless she went without guns, because they have all been taken ashore while the cruiser is being fitted with steel clip circles."

Admiral Luce, whose flag files on board the Galena, at anchor in the bay, said that the Oesippe was going on a northern cruise and would touch at Hallfax, but he declined to say anything on the subject.

Meeting of the Board of Public Improv ments-The City Garbage.

The Board of Public Improvements held neeting this morning, and set August 23 as the day for receiving a number of bids for street work and other contracts. The President of the board will inform the Mayor that on August 81 the advertised bids will be in and the contracts on them awarded accordingly, putting them in a a shape to be presented to the Council for approval, so that it is very probable that a special meeting of the Council will be called for August 31, as there are a number of contracts to be approved, which will admit of little delay.

to be approved, which will admit of little delay.

A communication was received from the Work-house stating that during a recent storm the smokestack of the institution was blown down on the roof of the prison dining-room, doing considerable damage. The Superintendent asks that a brick chimney be creeted in the place of the failer stack, as it will be better and safer. The matter will be investigated and the damage repaired.

The contracts for work on the city institutions include a variety of alterations and improvements to be made in accordance with plans drawn up by the Building Commissioner.

A chapel and pauper headquarters will be built at the Poor-house. Two new food-hoists or dumb-waiters will be built for the Insane Asylum, and passenger elevators for the Oisy and Female Hospitals. A boiler house and battery of four boilers will be put in at the battery of four boilers will be put in at the Foor-house, and the roof, porches and flooring of the same institution given athorough overhauling and reparing. Alterations and changes will be made on the Female Hospital dining room, which at present is objectionable for several reasons. Besides these alterations considerable improvements in the way of painting, repairing fences and roofs will be done, which will put the institutions into better shape than they have been for a long time.

The experiments with the new system of disposing of the city garbage and rubbish were tried yesterday with marked success, and henceforth many of the objectionable away with. Harbor Commissioner said this away with. Harbor Commissioner said this morning. "The experiment has been eminently satisfactory in every respect. We were afraid at first that the slops would not sink when the bottom of the dump-boat was let down, so to avoid any trouble in that direction the slops were thoroughly mixed with street sweeping, which carried everything down when the bottom of the boat was opened. The test was made on the boat at the foot of Chouteau avanue, and in consequence of the success met with the other boats, on Washington avenue and Mullanphy street will be used in the same manner. This will scilitate the work of the slop contractor very much, as avenue and Mullanphy street will be used in the same manner. This will facilitate the work of the slop contractor very much, as formerly he had only two dumps, one at Bar-ton and the other at Mullanphy street. The added facilities afforded him will make a very perceptible reduction in the cost of the slop contract next year. Two new boats will be put in within sixty days, and then the dirt and refuse of the city will be disposed of with-out delay."

In the Second District Police Court this morning, Philip Braun, the proprietor of a saloon and variety theater at Seventeenth saloon and variety theater at Seventeenth street and Franklin avenue, was arraigned on two charges of selling liquor without license, two charges of selling liquor to minors and a charge of conducting a theater without license. His cases were continued until August 9. Moses Williams, Hannah, his wife, and Barbara Lewis, all colored, were charged with a disturbance of the peace by engaging in a rough-and-tumble fight, which it appears was caused by Barbara meddling with the affairs of the family. Moses was fined 25, and his wife and Barbara 35 sech. William Evering was charged with crueity to a dumb animal, and forfeited a bond of 3300 by failing to appear. Frank McGarry was fined 335 on a charge of abusing his wife. He took an appeal. James Brooks and Mabon Rose were fined $55 each for maintaining a nuisance. There were thirty-five cases in all.

For many years I had traveled in foreign climes and had arrived as far as Chicago on my return trip to St. Louis. I observed noth-ing of note in the antiquated village-by-theing of note in the antiquated village-by-thelake, except that a few more government and business structures had rotted and tumbled down and that the odoriferous Chicago River had taken on some some wilder and more pleturesque stinks. I experienced my first surprise at the depot. A friend who was accompanying me from Windopolis inquired the fare to Paradise, alias St. Louis. The politie and smiling ticket-seller informed him that the amount was $4, no extra charge for sleeping berth. This reasonable rate had been voluntarily made by the great railroad corporations, whose bowels of compassion had been moved by the meskness and gentioness which St. Louis exhibited in former years when the atoresaid g.r.c. were giving it to ber in the neck for the especial benefit of Hogville. In the morning we put on our nicely blackened boots and after receiving the customary dusting down tendered the polite and attentive porter the usual tip. He smiling declined it.
My friend supported me in his manly arms,
while I breathlessly awaited an explanation.
"Yer see, boss," said he, "de comp'ny

"Can what be possible?" inqured my friend.

"Can if be possible," said I, "that I return to St. Louis after all these years to find her industries blighted, her factories shut down, her furnace fires gone out? Where, oh, where are those glorious clouds of smoke and scot, those symbols of progress and industry?"

"Why, you dear simpleton," he answered, "all chimneys in the city are now provided with the latest improved smoke consumers. It was proposed to pass a law requiring them to be attached, but such a stop was annecessary with our public-spirited manufacturers."

"It would not be finished yet," said my friend, "were it not for the proverbial liberality of the old real real estate owners of the city. Realizing that they became rich simply by holding on to property, while the energy and enterprise of their neighbors made it valuable, they became consolence-stricken, and learning that the city lacked the money to repair and entarge the Poor-house, Insane Asylum, etc., and to start the new city Hall, they kindly lent their assistance."

"How they have changed," I remarked.
Rolling along our clean, machine-swept and thoroughly apriakled streets, we finally reached the hotel. Learning that it was well-filled with guests, I gave the clerk, an old clerk, the wink, expecting to secure for my companion one of the rooms usually reserved for favorites, who might unexpectedly put in an appearance. The clerk confidentially informed me that the unwarying rule among 8t. Louis hotels was, "first come, first served." I ascertained, for a fact, that night, that the theaters had adopted the same rule in regard to seats.

I then left my friend to take a car for home.

thesters had adopted the same rule in regard to seats.

I then left my friend to take a car for home. If then left my friend to take a car for home. The driver, thoughtfully considering that I might be tired, stopped the oar until I got aboard. The conductor accompanied me inside and requested the people to move up, seeing there was room for another. A lady entered, and when I offered my seat, smiled sweetly and said, "Thank you," I grabbed the strap for support, for I really didn't expect it, some ladies on the opposite side, seeing me standing and noticing that they were occupying double the amount of room they had paid for, kindly moved closer tegether and gave me a seat. I notice they always treat their own sex the same way. In fact, the kindness and unselfishness shown on the street cars every day I siways considered a grand tribute to the civilization of the nineteenth contury. I notice that high hats are no longer worn at the theaters; that men never go out between eate; that buck doors of salloons are always closed on Sundays; that olty officials are just as courteous after election as before; that people now discuss polities and religion without getting mad; that—but I had better stop or I may say something not solonifically accurate.

"A Tale of Twe Cities."

An uncle of mine, who had spent all his life of about 70 summers in the beautiful and balmy climate of the far-distant oriental city balmy climate of the far-distant oriental city of Chicago, came to St. Louis during the delightful weather of the last week of July. On meeting him what was my surprise to find him locking many years my junior; the bloom of youth rested on his comely face, his step was light and elastic, and his feet, cased in dainty Morocco, might have rivaled Cinderella's own. The first rays of the early morning san were just penetrating the blue mists that enveloped the elear and piacid waters of the Mississippi, as we boarded a south-bound Fourth street car. After leaving the car and being accosted by, but safely secaping from the wies of, a peanut vender, who was calmly and economically roassing that delughtful truit by the unaided, kindly rays of Old Sol, we started through Lafayette Park to my residence. I may here mention that Fairenheit's invention was no longer useful; the mercury had soared aloft, and was how mingling with the clouds. I had cast furtive giances as my youthful relative, and realized that his great freshness had departed, and a weary, fagged expression began to deepen in his boylish face. We had walked but a few steps when a low moan reached my ear, and turning to my companion I was struck dumb with horror, for I saw that he was suddenly changing into an old man. His face was uptarned to the marciless, sun, and his giossy black loads, before my year eyes, turned white, his peachy skin grew withered and yellow, his bright eyes dim, and his faultiessly fitting clothes hung loosely on his tottering limbs, and altegether he looked what a man of his age should in an ordinary climate. The St. Louis heat had been too great a change for his delicate organization—it had "done him up." After this I immediately decided to go to that city of everlasting youth—Chicago—and forthwith proceed to cut down my father's best cherry tree with my little hatchet to sell and delray expenses. Yours truly, SUMMERVILLE, Nicholas Co., W. Va., August hontas Co., has struck on a new and successful plan by which to rid his farm of the thousands of chipmunks, squirrels, coons and other four-legged pests which have been playing havee with his corn and other crops. Murray observed that all of the animals when frightened off would run along the top of a high rail fence which extended from the field into the woods. He got several gallons of tar, into which he stirred other glutinous articles over a slow fire. This sticky substance he applied to the upper surface of the top rail and the next one below. The first morning after the application of the stuff Murray started out into the field with his dogs and boys. They raised a yell and the dogs ran, charging through the corn, frightening a large number of squirrels, chipmunks and several opossums and coons, whose gormandizing propensities had delayed their retreat to their forest hiding-places. The animals ran down the upper rails by the dozon, gumming their feet as they went. When they struck the open woods near the fence the fun began. The gum caused the leaves and sticks to adhere to their feet, and in falling or roiling over to get rid of them still more would adhere to their sides, backs and beliles. Murray, his boys and dogs killed sixty-five squirrels, thirty-four chipmunks, three 'coons and seven 'possums that moraling. Some of the animals succeeded in climbing short distances into trees, but their feet were so covered with, the sticky substance and their movements so obstructed by their covering of leaves and sticks that very few succeeded in getting entirely away. It took Murray but a few days in which to capture and destroy the pests in his neighborhood. The story soon got out, and now all the neighboring country is applying to Murray for some of his "tar-heel" stuff, or the recipe by which it is made.

While traveling from Hayden to Red Cliff, in large mountain. I asked my guide what the name of this large peak was, and he said Dome Peak, so I said we would go to the top and get a good view of the country. But the guide told me there were eagles, rattle-snakes, mountain ilons, panthers, and he came almost saying there were dragons up there. I concluded I would go up myself, so I started up the mountain. I reached the top about midnight. I was armed with a 44-calibre revolver, an umbrelia and a camp-stool. On the top there was just enough space for an eagle to build a nest, which one had done. I opened my campatool over the nest and sat down, and with my spy-glass had a vory good view of the moon, which was just in her full splendor in the clear sky. Just as I was interested in the moon I heard a rattling noise about ten feet below me. I made quick use of my 44, and just as I had fired I was carried in the air. I looked down and saw a large eagle under my chair. I was being carried to the heavens by a huge eagle. The eagle did not stop until he reached the moon, where he was relieved of his burden. I had gone but a short distance when I came to a huge wall made of pound cake. I started to eat a hole through the cake wall, which I did in Sib days. As I got inside I was taken by a man with a big sword, who led me before a man with a big sword, who led me before a man with a big sword, who led me before a man with a big sword, who led me before a man with a big sword, who led me before a man with a big sword, who led me before a man with a big sword, who led me before a man with a big sword, who led me before a man with a big sword, who led me before a man with a big sword, who led me before a man with a big sword, who led me before a man with a big sword, who led me before a man with a big sword, who led me before a man with a big sword who led me before a man with a big sword, who led me before a man with a big sword, who led me before a man with a big sword who led me before a man with a big sword who led me before a man with a big sword who led me befor

kmen of Kansas and Tex Doing to Create a New Breed of Cattle— Peculiarities and Advantages of the Mixed Stock—The Great Mistake Made By Most of the Breeders—Where Buffalo Are Obtained—The Mountain Bison and Cattle Market.

Texas," said J. T. Hill, Western Live Stock Agent of the Chicago & Alton, who is in the city to-day and was seen by a Post-Disparch reporter, "and that is an endeavor to cross our domestic cattle with buffalo and thus pre-any been now on the market. But the system at present pursued is bound to prove a failure.

"There has been great difficulty experienced," Mr. Hill went on to say, "in obtaining buffalo to start the new breed. As far as I know there are but three herds now left, one in Northwestern Texas, near the southern line of No Man's Land, numbering about 150; one in Eastern New Mexico, about 35 or 40 strong, and another in Dakota near the British line. All these are carefully preserved by the owners of the ranges, and command a high price, from 375 to 3150 a head. The Texas owner only sells a few every year, being determined to prevent his herd from dying out. To the best of my belief these are the sole remnants, outside of the menageries, of the countiess the head of the menageries, of the counties the plains buffalo to be met with in the Yellowstone Park, but I do not know whether the plains buffalo to be met with in the Yellowstone Park, but I do not know whether are unquestionably some to be found in the armountain buffalo there are unquestionably some to be found in the found in the plains buffalo to be met with in the Yellowstone Park, but I do not know whether the plains buffalo to be met with in the Yellowstone Park, but I do not know whether the mountain buffalo there are unquestionably some to be found in the found in the plains buffalo to the prairies, although many hold a contrary opinion. I believe that they are simply the descendants of those that have wandered off into the hills, and never regained the open country.

TROUBLE WITH SPRINKLING BILLS. Difficulty Found in Identifying the Property-

The clerks in the Collector's office are hav ing a great deal of trouble with the sprinkling bills sent to the Collector's office from the City Hall. These bills, instead of giving the name of the street the assessed party resides on, simply give the number of the block. The resimply give the number of the block. The result of the omission is that a gentleman with a common name like John Smith, for instance, has to canvass the block and ascertain whether there is anybody by his name living in the square before he can be positively certain that he is paying his own bill and not the bill of somebody else. The bills, however, have not only caused the Collector's clerks trouble, but have also resulted in a hardship to many taxpayers who have had to make the trip to the City hail, where the bills were made out, in order to have their assessment identified.

ASK THE ONLY M'NICHOLS. His Advice Is Solid.

"What is home without a mother?"
Some one asked us long ago
But such losses we must smother,
And live on some how, you know
Now, the question most connected
With life's daily fret and foam
La and have we well reflected,
How to get and keep a home?

Even when young the thought could to That even play house was the best; New, when grown-up, ask Mohlehol. How to fit and make a nest. On his books are names by legion, Rich and poor, who comfort seek; Men and women in this region. Buying households by the week.

This is but a husband's duty,
First, if he's a cautions man,
Give his childron shapes of be suty,
Even if by the installment plan.
Teach them how to put together
Stick by stick that safety ark,
Which will shield them in all weather,
Light and guide them in the dark.

What is life, lived helter-skelter, Spending every dime you earn? What is age without this shelter, Now is fust the time to learn. Ask McNichol how to do it, tioods, advice, he both can give; Take my word you'll never rue it, Many a one he's helped to live.

The law limits the debt to 5 per cent of assessed valuation. Provision is made for an annual tax ievy for interest, also for the purpose of creating a sinking fund for payment of bonds at maturity. This issue ($100,000) was necessitated by the increased demand to reschool facilities, caused by wonderful increase in population. Proceeds from sale will be used in purchasing additional property and erecting more School-houses.

more difficult of solution. The lining of soda water fountains and the composition of flaworing extracts have been matters of public interest, and beer and all mait and vinous beverages have been condemned by many on general principles. The latest attack is made upon the sparkling, effervescing liquids put up in bottles and sold as soda, sarsaparilla, ginger ale, etc. It is reported that there a great many cases in the different hospitals of the city, and practitioners who have been interviewed all assert that they have remarked an increase of patients suffering from lead-poisoning recently in their private practice.

The matter was recently made the subject of a paper read before the Practitioners' Club of Newark, N. J., by Dr. Charles F. J. Lehlbach, and reference thereto, as well as interviews with several prominent physicians, discloses that within the last few years frequent cases of lead poisoning of the colleky form have attracted the attention of the profession to the fact that new causes must be searched out for the increasing danger. Beyond a reasonable doubt, it is said, in a large number of these cases the introduction of the metal into the system has been by means of soda water. Among the numerous cases cited by the Newark Adversier is that of a middle-aged man of ordinary health, a saloon-keeper, who was found by a consultation of physicians to be suffering with gastric symptoms, indicating catarrh of the stomach, followed by colleky pains, paroxysmal and obstinate constipation. The absence of increase of temperature and a marked discoloration of gums led to the suspicion. The patient had been in the habit, for weeks or months during the hot assess of definiting large quantities of

It is interesting to try and figure the actual axtent of the advantages reaped from modern improvements — advantages which so me people are bold enough to call in question. Does rapid transit, for instance, really save any great amount of valuable time?

Take a city like New York, where there are perhaps 250,000 people who go cach day to and from their work. Remembering the distances travaled by some, it will surely be within limits to suppose that five minutes, on the average, is saved on each journey by the various means of rapid transit of which most avail themselves. This would make an hour put the twelve weekly journeys, and fifty-two hours, or eay five working days, in a year.

For 10,000 people this means a yearly saving put 1,250,000 working days, or, reckoning 300 cooking days to the year, an annual economy of the year.

ROBERT GARRETT.

The Gentleman's Condition Uncl

NEW YORE, August 7.—Mr. Robert Garrett, who is sick at the Brevoort House, requires a great deal of watching. His three doctors are great deal of watching. His three doctors are arranging their visits so that he is hardly ever without one of them in attendance. The re-port current last October of his brain being affected has been revived, but the physicians affected has been revived, but the physicians say that the trouble appears to be rather with his nerves than with his head. It was said yesterday that his general condition was improved, and that he had stendily gained since leaving Elohfield Springs last Thursday. On sunday night Mr. Gurrett, under the influence of a hypodermic injection that contained only a little morphine, slept four hours straight away. Then he had a brief restless spell, but fell asleep again and did not wake for two hours. Yesterday morning he said he spell, but fell asleep again and did not wake for two hours. Yesterday morning he said he felt refreshed. During the day he acquired an appetite and drank milk and ate some fruit. He was quite matter of fact in his demeanor yesterday and toid Dr. Edward T. Partridge that he was foolish to worry so much over his troubles and that he would try not to do so any more. His condition of depression and melancholy is varied occasionally by fits of hilarity. He is very subject to change, and because he foels better one day his doctors are by no means certain he will not be worse the next.

"Mr. Garrett has not paresis, in my opinion." said Dr. Partridge. "His trouble is with his nervous system. He also has great trouble with his stomand and digostive organs. He is very sick, but is in no immediate danger. In fact, I feel very much encouraged at the way he has picked up within the last few days. But the improvement may be only temporary."

Dr. John I. Metcalfe and Dr. Partridge had an informal consultation about the patient last night. Dr. Ward remains with Mr. Garrett every night. A. H. Crane, Mr. Garrett's private secretary, said that plans were in progress for taking Mr. Garrett to the seashore and that the family would probably leave the city with him this afternoon. They had been trying to get a cottage. Mr. Crane said Mr. Garrett was suffering from the effects of a relapse due to getting a chill from a plunge bath at Richfield Springs. His allment was not in his brain, and all stories to that effect were sensational and without any foundation.

Mr. Crane was kept busy yesterday answering telegrams inquiring after Mr. Garrett's health. Many messages come from abroad. Col. John L. Thomas and Howard Munickhuysen of Baltimore and John K. Cowen, counsel for the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, called yesterday, but were not permitted to see Mr. Garrott.

The anti-Francis Democratic Club of the Thirteenth Ward will hold a special meeting at Turner Hall to-morrew evening for the purpose of nominating candidates to be run at the primaries next Saturday. Hon. John M. Glover and Tom Morris and others will address the meeting.

Within the past week Superintendent A. C. Gould of Station B has been granted an extra carrier, on account of the extraordinary big business that this office has been conducting. Mr. Gould has now a force of thirteen carriers, and when he took charge of this department one year ago had but three carriers to cover a territory of five miles square. The mail business is daily increasing. The Money Order Department is greater than that of Station A or C put together, as does also the postal service.

It is probable that the Western fivel mills will resume operations under the old management, St. Louis Ore and Steel Co., about the first of next October. To day the Western Steel Corporation turned over the mill to the old managers the Ore and Steel Co., about the steel corporation turned over the mill to the old managers the ore and Steel Co., atter a three years' successful business. The officials of the steel mills deemed it not wise to allow the public to know what action they would take in running the works, but from sources that are substantial in every particular, a speedy resumption of the mills may be looked for. Next Monday a general cleaning up of the mills and yards will begin. Numerous repairs will be made to the machinery. The Jupiter furnace stock-house that was destroyed by fire last June will be repisced by a iron and brick structure.

Wheat had something of a dump this morning, and for a short time went tumbling down hill at a rate that soon knocked well co off vesterday's closing prices. It was cable advices of finer and more settled weather in England that pulled the tail board over the market. The markets of that country though a tendency of buyers to hold off was also noted, but the improved weather abroad and declines in Chicago and New York were bear influences that had a decided and instantaneous effect. Receipts at this point were large, and 7,400 bu in excess of same day last week, and the stock had increased 170,000 bu, less than one-third of which however, was in No. 2 red, and the grading still poor. Arrivals at principal winter markets to-day were 383,000 bu and shipments 189,000 bu. The caping rush to sell carried September down to Stack, and the stock but market by the bears for a while and some long stuff was thrown over by weak-kneed buils. Most of the buying was by shorts and naturally was not very pressing on a breaking market. The early decline was followed by a strong recovery, started by railies at other points and some builish taik—firm cables and weather said to be again unsettled in England and French import duty to be removed—and the strength was intensited by the service and higher cash market and good buying the said to the points and some builish taik—firm cables and searching for spot No. 2 red that it advanced from 945c to 85c, an exporter taking most the offerings and some selling for shipment to Toledo, this buying shutting local milliers out; Other grades were better; No. 3 red, Sie this side, Silach in C., 1360 ld of C., 75c for E. side; rejected Corn was dull, as local speculation was languid, wheat keeping the pit traders busy and hardly any orders.

CHICAGO, August 7.—Wheat opened lower under free ofterings of september and December by a bear house and the conviction that a leading long had unloaded about two millions yeareday. Foreign advices, however, were decidedly bullish, cables reporting the weather unsettled and spot wheat 2d to 6d higher. There were rumors that the French import duty would be removed, and the market closed firm. Wheat may ease off a little more, but on both the home and foreign situation and outlook we think it a good property on the breaks.

DANGEROUS TEMPERANCE DRINKS.

From the New York Graphic.

What to drink and what not to drink are questions that seem daily to become more and more difficult of solution. The lining of soda water fountains and the composition of fla-voring extracts have been matters of public voring extracts have been matters of public interest, and beer and all malt and vinous beverages have been condenned by many on general principles. The latest attack is made upon the sparkling, effervescing liquids put up in bottles and sold as soda, sarsaparilia, ginger ale, etc. It is reported that there a great many cases in the different hospitals of the city, and practitioners who have been interviewed all assert that they have remarked an increase of patients suffering from lead-poisoning recently in their private practice.

The matter was recently made the subject of a paper read before the Practitioners' Club of Rewark, N. J., by Dr. Charles F. J. Lehlbach, and reference thereto, as well as interviews with several prominent physicians, discloses that within the last few years frequent cases of lead poisoning of the colicky form have attracted the attention of, the profession to the fact that new causes must be searched out for the increasing danger. Beyond a reasonable doubt, it is said, in a large number of these cases the introduction of the metal into the system has been by means of soda water. Among the numerous cases cited by the Newark Advertier is that of a middle-aged man of ordinary health, a salcon-keeper, who was found by a consultation of physicians to be suffering with gastric symptoms, indicating catarrh of the stomach, followed by colicky pains, paroxysmal and obstinate constipation. The absence of increase of temperature and a marked discoloration of gums led to the suspicion of lead poisoning. The success of the treatment with this view verified the suspicion. The patient had been in the habit, for weeks or months during the hot season, of drinking large quantities of soda-water and other so-called "soft" or "funday" drinks from the ordinary pint or half-pint patent-stopper bottles.

Another instance was that of a woman seized with symptoms of severe intestinal neuralgia, occurring in paroxysms, occasionally intensified to a degree of moderate collo. The gums presented the bluish discoloration of lead poisoning, and under anti-lead treatment the patient recovered. She had been in the habit of drinking copiously of soda water obtained from a neighboring mineral water factory.

A case cited by another physician was that of a been wagond driver. He had been seized for several days with violent collo, at first attributed to some error in diet. A consultation was held, and in the absence of gastric or intestinal catarrh and increase of temperature, the relief of continued broad surface prosure upon

It is interesting to try and figure the actual axtent of the advantages reaped from modern improvements — advantages which so me people are bold enough to call in question. Does rapid transit, for instance, really save any great amount of valuable time?

Take a city like New York, where there are perhaps 250,000 people who go each day to and from their work. Remembering the distances traveled by some, it will surely be within limits to suppose that five minutes, on the average, is saved on each journey by the various means of rapid transit of which most vasil themselves. This would make an hour on the twelve weekly journeys, and fifty-two hours, or any five working days, in a year.

For 100,000 people this means a year; saving of 1,200,000 werking days, or, reckoning 300 working days to the year, an annual coonomy of 4,18 years.

ROBERT GARRETT.

who is sick at the Brevoort House, requires a great deal of watching. His three doctors are arranging their visits so that he is hardly ever without one of them in attendance. The re-port current last October of his brain being affected has been revived, but the physicians say that the trouble appears to be rather with his nerves than with his head. It was said preserved what his general condition was improved, and that he had steadily gained since leaving Richfield Springs last Thursday. On Sunday night Mr. Garrett, under the influence of a hypodermic injection that contained only a little morphine, slept four hours straight away. Then he had a brief restless spell, but fell asleep again and did not wake for two hours. Yesterday morning he said he felt refreshed. During the day he acquired an appetite and drank milk and ate some fruit. He was quise matter of fact in his demeanor yesterday and told Dr. Edward T. Partridge that he was foolish to worry so much over his troubles and that he would try not to do so any more. His condition of depression and melancholy is varied occasionally by fits of hilarity. He is very subject to change, and because he foels better one day his doctors are by no means certain he will not be worse the next.

"Mr. Garrett has not paresis, in my opinion," said Dr. Partridge. "His trouble is with his nevous system. He also has great trouble with his stewmach and digostive organs. He is very sick, but is in no immediate danger. In fact, I feel very much encouraged at the way he has picked up within the last few days. But the improvement may be only temporary."

Dr. John I. Metcalfe and Dr. Partridge had way he has picked up within the last few days. But the improvement may be only temporary."

Dr. John I. Metcalfe and Dr. Partridge had an informal consultation about the patient last night. Dr. Ward remains with Mr. Garrett every night. A. H. Crane, Mr. Garrett's private secretary, said that plans were in progress for taking Mr. Garrett to the seashore and that the family would probably leave the city with him this afternoon. They decided last night where to go. They had been trying to get a cottage. Mr. Crane said Mr. Garrett was suffering from the effects of a relapse due to getting a chill from a plunge bath at Richfield Springs. His aliment was not in his brain, and all stories to that effect were sensational and without any foundation.

Mr. Crane was kept busy yesterday answering telegrams inquiring after Mr. Garrett's health. Many messages come from abroad. Col. John L. Thomas and Howard Munickhuysen of Baltimore and John K. Cowen, counsel for the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad, called yesterday, but were not permitted to see Mr. Garrett.

The anti-Francis Democratic Club of the Thirteenth Ward will hold a special meeting at Turner Hall to-morrew evening for the purpose of nominating candidates to be run at the primaries next Saturday. Hon. John M. Glover and Tom Morris and others will address the meeting.

Within the past week Superintendent A. C. Gould of Station B has been granted an extra carrier, on account of the extraordinary big business that this office has been conducting. Mr. Gould has now a force of thirteen carriers, and when he took charge of this department one year ago had but three carriers and when he took charge of this department one year ago had but three carriers to cover a territory of five miles square. The mail business is daily increasing. The Monsy Order Department is greater than that of Station A or C put together, as does also the postal service.

It is probable that the Western Steel mills will resume operations under the old management, St. Louis Ore and Steel Co., about the first of next October. To-day the Western Steel Corporation turned over the mill so the old managers the Ore and Steel Co., after a three years' successful business. The officials of the steel mills deemed it not wise to allow the public to know what action they would take in running the works, but frem sources that are substantial in every particular, a speedy resumption of the mills may be looked for. Next Monday a general cleaning up of the mills and yards will begin. Numerous repairs will be made to the machinery. The Jupiter furnace stock-house that was destroyed by fire last June will be replaced by a iron and brick structure.

Chicago Letter,

By Private Wire to the Redmond Cleary Commission Co.

Chicago, August 7.—Wheat opened lower under free offerings of September and December by a bear house and the conviction that a leading long had unloaded about two millions yesterday. Foreign advices, however, were decidedly bullish, cables reporting the weather unsettled and spot wheas 2d to 6d higher. There were ramors that the French import duty would be removed, and the market closed firm. Wheat may ease off a little more, but on both the home and foreign situation and outlook we think it a good property on the breaks.

Frovisions—The bull features to-day have been higher prices for pokes and very heavy buying of pokes and very heavy buying of pokes and the first pokes. Both together did not lift the market much showing it to be in fact rather was a liberal buyer. There is a general disposition to unload at about its for September. The closing was easy all around. THE TROUBLES IN HAYTI.

As Attache of the New York Consulate Ex plains the Situation.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, August 7 .- Mr. E. D. Bassett, the Consul-General of Hayti at this port, is now at Port-au-Prince, and has been there letters have been received from him since the troubles began in the capital, and the latest advices received from him, day before yesterday, report complete quiet on the island throughout the city. An official attached to the consulate said yesterday, referring to the recent publications: "I cannot imagine the motive for such statements as have been printed in New York, representing the conditions of affairs at Port-au-Prince as marked by assassination, rapine, looting and murder. To be sure, there were two disastrous fires in the capital, but there was no looting and only a single case of detected incendiarism and the drunken colories after a fair trial was summarily abot.

"And that was the reason of the recent disturbance?"

"Yes, an idea got abroad that President Solomon was about to retire voluntarily from his post to which he had been re-elected for a term to expire in 1889. When he observed the signs he publicly declared he would remain until his term expired and reinforced the gen'darmeric in Port-au-Prince by 3,000, and thus secured himself against any sudden coup. The two aspirants for his place were Senator Legitime and Deputy F. Manigut, and for these the President sont and they were induced to become voluntarily exiles from the country."

"Have you any further apprehension of "Have you any intries" appreciate to say that a crisis may not arise. Solomon, however, is backed by an army of 25,000 men with only 6,000,000 of population to look after, and these troops are armed with Remington rifles. As long as the conservative sentiment of the island can be made to prevail the present dovernment will stand. The commercial interests involved are great for from New York alone the exports to Hayti amount $50,000.000 annually while the imports are about $35,000,000."

JOHN SWINTON'S ILLNESS.

The Well-Known Journalist Suffering From Serious Trouble With His Eyes.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH. NEW YORK, August 7.-The serious illness of Mr. John Swinton last February brought about cataract, from which he has since been suffering in both eyes. For many weeks past he has suffered a total loss of eyesight and has been confined to his domicile. On Tuesday last he was removed to Dr. Kanapp's Eye and Twentieth street, and on Thursday an operation was performed on the right eye by the well-known eye specialist, Dr. Born. The crystalline lens were extracted. It is believed that the opera-tion will prove successful. Mr. Swinton is still confined to a darkened room in the instill confined to a darkened from in the in-firmary and until yesterday morning wore heavy bandages over his eyes. The "Fall of Pompeil" will be given again to night at Kensington Gardens, but there will be several changes in both the entertainment and the pyrotechnic display. The programme has been rearranged and some new attractions have been added. The performance will be more interesting than ever before. The managers have secured performers who will present some novel spectacies. There has been an entire change in the arrangement of the freworks, and the display will be much more elaborate and on a far grander scale than before. To night there will be a Francis-reception, and a portrait of the Mayor will be shown in fames and colored lights. The entertainment promises to be extraordinarily pleasing.

Daly Wins a Very One-Sided Game—The Association Meeting at Philadelphia-Bell Boy's Sensational Price-Trotting at Buffalo – White and "The Spider" Matheed-Extra Inning Base Ball Games Sporting News-Base Ball Chat-Turf

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH. SARATOGA, N. Y., August 7.—The Saratoga event last evening was the billiard tournanent which began in the hall at 9 o'clock. At that hour a select number occupied elevated seats around a billard table, and among the seats around a binard table, and among the audience were many ladies, leaders in the summer social life of Saratoga. The male portion of the gathering included Judges Brady and Truax, ex-Judge Hilton, Hugh F. Farrington, ex-Judge Horace Russell, Augustus H. Docharty, John F. Goose eggs were the result of the next innings for both, and Daly took off his steel-pen coat, and thus relieved of handithere were two disastrous fires in the capital, but there was no looting and only a single case of detected incendiarism and the drunken culpris after a fair trial was summarily shot. Nor was there any assault on an American lady by our soldiers, as has been reported. There is only one American lady in Port-au-Prince, and she is the wife of the American Minister, Mr. Thompson. Of course, when one-eighth of the city, embracing a population of 48,000, is burned up, there is naturally great excitement and exaggeration.

"Now as to the statement that President Solomon has sent $5,800,000 out of the country as a personal nest-egg for future uses, that is preposterous on its face. There is not that amount of ready coin in the whole country. Hayti has, in fact, a contract with the credit industries of France, which collect the revenue and bank it, and therefore the President has no actual control over the funds of the Republic. Indeed, he is far from being the rich man he is represented. He has a salary of $25,000 year. As for being a voodooist he is, in fact, like his wife, a devout Roman Catholic, the religion of the country, and a close personal friend of the Roman Catholic slahely, which, like the Latin powers of Europe, has a concordal with the Pope.

"And that was the reason of the recent disturbance?"

"Yes, an idea got abroad that President Solomon was about to retire voluntarily from his post to which he had been re-elected for a term to expire in 1889. When he observed the signs he publicly declared he would remain until his term expired and reinforced the gen'darmerle in Port-au-Prince by $,000, and thus secured himself against any sudden coup. THE ASSOCIATION MEETING.

Important Matters to Be Brought Before I -The Delegates.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH. PHILADELPHIA, Pa., August 7.—The special meeting of the American Association at the Continental Hotel to-day promises to be one ever held. For the first time since all the asagreement serious charges will be preferred by one club against another. There promises to be a very full attendance of delegates. President Chris Von der Ahe is here with his club and President Wheelere Wikoff registered at the Continental to-day. Congressman John J. O'Nell, who is to represent the St. Louis Club, and President Von der Ahe, ame up from Washington to-night. Representatives of 'the Cincinnati, Louisville, Kansas City and Cleveland clubs arrived at a 'o'lock this morning and the Brooklyn and Baltimore delegates are expected on early trains.

President Von der Ahe said to a reporter that he would push the charge against President Won der Ahe said to a reporter that he would push the charge against President Won der Ahe said there was more or less talk.

''I never said Ferguson was intentionally dishonest,' said Mr. Von der Ahe. ''Ali my charges are against Byrne. I see that Byrne coasions and Comiskey knows and values his merit. If President Von der Ahe, ''Ali my charges are against Byrne. I see that Byrne will win the Campionship without any further trouble.

charges are against Byrne. I see that Byrne is anxious to allow newspaper reporters in the meeting. That is at least what he says. Now that suits me exactly, and I will vote for such a proposition."

The Brooklyn Club has another fight on hand, and one that is likely to cost it $1,500. The charges are for taking the club off the field at Kansas City. President Byrne claims that it is Kansas City and not the Brooklyn Club that should pay, the fine, and he will endeavor to prove it to the Association. The question of making a general reduction of the price of admission from 50 to 25 ceuts will again be brought up, and it is probable that Baltimore, Louisville and 8t. Louis will be voted the privilege of charging 25 cents.

They Want a Pitcher.

The work of King in the recent Baltimore porter asked him whether he expected to conmore—and just as long as I feel in condition, just so long will I volunteer to go in whenever we are short-handed. I want to see our boys carry off the pennant this sea-son for more than one reason, and whatever I can do toward it will be gladly and willingly son for more than one reason, and whatever I can do toward it will be gladly and willingly done."

During the course of the conversation bighearted Jack Milligan joined the party, and as he slapped King on the back he said:

"Good boy, Charlle, that's the way to put it. We want to pull that flag to $t. Louis this year, to show the League people that the Browns can play ball with them any day in the week. Why, I, for one, will chip in $50 to help buy a pitcher to help you and 'Hud' out,' said Milligan, enthusiastically. "All the boys feel the same way, but it's mighty hard to get hold of the right kind of a man."

This offer of Milligan simply shows the splendid feeling existing in the Brown Stocking camp and speaks volumes for Comiskey's control of his men and the boss President.

President Von der Ahe is doing his best to get hold of another first-class pitcher, and if his offers for Ramsey, Chamberlain or Crane are accepted, either of the three men will help out the Browns greatly in their fight for leading honors the rest of the season. As it is the spirit of determination so strongly manifest all along the champlons' line will go a great way toward winning games, and if King and Hudson continue on their triumphant march, the champions will win the pennant without any outside assistance.

The Great Athletics Coming.

The Great Athletics Coming.

To-morrow night the Browns and Athletics leave Philadelphia for St. Louis, and on Friday afternoon they will meet at Sportsman's Park to continue their struggle for championship honors. Three games will constitute the series and they promise to be three of the biggest games played in St. Louis this season. The rivalry between the two teams is of a bitter nature, and the struggles ensuing will be characterized by great ball playing. Both teams have settled down to the stern reality of an unprecedentedly grand battle, the greatest in the history of the American Association. The Athletics Knocked, the Browns out of first place in 1883, and Capt. Stovey says since Curt Welch and Billy Glesson have joined them, the Athletics will do it again. At any rate, the base ball patrons of St. Louis will have a feast set before them, in the coming games, in which, they can "toast" their enthusiasm and yell for dear life to their heart's content, The opportunity will be there. All the opportunity wants is the people. Park to continue their struggle for champion

Grand Stand Chat.

Charles Clarkson has signed with the Buffalo Patsy Cahili has been released by the Worcester Club. Galvin and Morris of the Pittsburg Club are jealous of each other.

Darby O'Brien has succeeded Dave Orr as Captain of the Brooklyn Club. Carroll of Pittsburg made his first home run of the season at Detroit Saturday. The Browns will win one game in Philadelphia, at least. They will at any rate come home in the lead. Capt. Anson said previous to starting that the team would return in the lead, and then the pennant is safe. Cleveland has always, heretofore, been weak in batteries, but in O'Brien and Bakely the club has two most effective pitchers. the club has two most effective pitchers.

Capt. Comiskey and his "warriors bold" will be home Friday morning. That they will be royally welcomed goes without saying.

Arile Latham stole second and third in the eighth inning recently, and then he said: "Did you see me get a divorce from those bags?"

Robinson is playing phenomenal ball on this trip. He is fielding, batting and running bases in a style which fairly astonishes the natives of the East. The Louisville club is the best equipped of any Association team in pitchers—having Ew-ing, Chamberlain, Hecker, Ramsey and Strat-ton on their staff.

Umpire Gaffney thinks the way to stop kick-ing is to give the fines to the umpire. Gaff says rather than put money in the umpire's pocket the players will keep still. Brooklyn with Caruthers, Foutz, Hughes, Terry and Mays to officiate in the pitcher's box, has not fared anywhere near as well as the Browns with King and Hudson. Boston is patching up all sorts of schemes to get Joe Quinn of Des Moines. If they let him play second all the time he will likely go with them, but if they don't promise that he will never go.

Chicago would make a great bid for the pen-nant with one good pitcher like Keefe. With the present wild twirlers it will be almost an impossib billity to beat out the "Glants."

Mr. James V. Byrne, one of the handsomest of the fat men who played for the benefit of the little waifs, at Sportsman's Park, last Saturday, came near creating a panic last night by circulating a report that the Browns had beaten the Athletics, and had made twenty-five hits off Weyhing. Several people who bet on the misinformation are looking for Jim with a big club.

for Jim with a big club.

James O'Rourke of the New York Club is a striking example of how a bail player can keep in the pink of condition for years. Here is a player who won his spurs in the champion club of the country as far back as '73, now. looking as well, and pitting up, if anything, a stronger game than he did for the great Boston team of long ago. How absurd it was for a Philadelphia paper, a short time ago, to accuse this tried old player with dissipation while in the Quaker City. He has always been temperate in his habits and ambitions. He has studied law in his spare moments, and has been admitted to the bar. Would that the profession had a few more of his kind.

"Old Tax."

The Latonia Jockey Club of Uovington, Ky, announces a change of time for the scales of the stakes for the fixed events of the spring meeting of 1890—the Darby, the Oaks and the Himyar stakes. Instead of January 15 next they will close August 15, at which time the will also close.

The income of Woods, the English jockey, four years previous to the present one has averaged $30,000 per annum for his services. In addition to this his income is largely increased by his hotel and a great deal of real state at Newmarket and a cooperage at Limehouse. He has a residence at Newmarket and a bonese at Rrighton, owns £12,000 in consols.

By Telegraph to the POST-DISPATCH.

NEW YORK, August 7.—In the last number of the Turf, Field and Farm appeared an editorial clined to look with suspicion upon the recent in which it was stated that horsemen were inclined to look with suspicion upon the recent sale of Bell Boy, at which the young stallion was reported to have been sold for $50,000, the highest price ever paid for a horse in this country. It was intimated that the sale was a put-up job between John S. Clark and D. C. Seaman, who were the only bidders, with the single object of achieving a "fictitious reputation for Bell Boy."

Mr. Seaman lives at San Diego, Cal., and is at present in Buffalo. Mr. Clark lives at New Brunswick, N. J. He said yesterday: "The intimation that there was anything underhanded in the sale is a gratuitous faisehood. The horse was put up for sale because Mr Jefferson, who owned him in partnership with Mr. Seaman, wanted to sell his share. Mr. Seaman had the same right to bid as anyone else and it was so understood at the time. He and I were genuine bidders, for we both wanted the horse. I do not consider $50,000 an extravagant price for Bell Boy for he is only $years old, he stands at $500, and his book of forty mares for next season is already filled. At this rate he will more than pay for himself in three years and will then be only 6 years old. True, he will stay in Kentucky, and he would have stayed there if I had secured him, because I think that the best place to keep a stallion. It is not true, as the Turf says, that Bell Boy has not changed hands for he has become the possession of Mr. Seaman solely. The only person who has been benefited by the high 1 loe obtained has been Mr. Jefferson, who got more out of it than he would have if he had sold his share at the rate for which the horse was purchased from Senator Stockbridge of Michigan. It is true that the sale was generously advertised as the Turf, Field and Farns says, but the one sporting paper reports the sale in a business-like manner. Perhaps this fact explains why the Turf treats it in so exceptional a style. I have my-self entered my best marse to Bell Boy for the next three years, and that ought to show what I really think

Park is a very lively place. Hundreds of visitors have been out to see the horses take their work on the reconstructed track and quarters, halves and miles have been carefully timed. The universal verdict is that the track is safe and fast. Thousands of dollars have been spent on it, but the grades are nothing like what they were when Dexter made nis resord here of 2:17½ twenty-one years ago. Buildings have gone up like magic on the grounds, and an army of laborers are working at night by electric light. The town is full of strangers, and feverish excitement prevails everywhere. There will be lively contests to-day, but a sensational race is on the caud for Thursday. The two great 4-year-olds from Kentucky, Susie S. and Hourl, are doing remarkably well in their work, and among the Northern-bred 4-year-olds named against them is Mamie Wood, owned by Congressman Wood of Elmira. Some predict the 4-year-old record of Manzanita-3:16-will be equalled.

A general topic of discussion is the race between Clingstone and Belle Hamlin, set down for Friday. The betting is even and an enormous crowd will witness the battle. Clingstone arrived yesterday with his stable companion Guy, and some of the shrewd observers are of the opinion that the latter will beat both Prince Wilkes and Resalind Wilks. Guy is a very fast horse. It is only a question of how he will behave in scoring. Mr. Ingerly, the owner of Prince Wilkes, is here and he is confident that he has the champion trotter of 1888. Doble wants fo pace Johnston against time, but thus far he has not come to terms with the management.

Pittsburg Phil is reported to have lost $25,000 on racing at the Eastern meetings in the past six weeks. His $150,000 can't stand such a drain very long.

Compared with our horses, L. E. Myers, the runner, thinks the Australians the better stay-ers, but hardly as fleet as ours in sprinting. He goes so far as to consider Dunlop able to beat The Bard.

Grimaidi, D. T. Puisifer's 5-year-old son of Lisbon and Nora, landed a three-quarter dash at Monmouth Park, last Saturday, in 1:13%, and it is said that Dave had a pocketful of tickets that read $800 against $100, the cur-rent odds. There don't seem to be anything the matter with Dave's luck since he sold "Old Tax."

It is said that Appleby & Johnson, who recently bought the yearing, King Thomas, at the Haggin sale for $38,000, and sold him to Senator Hearst for $40,000, have decided to dispose of their entire stable of thoroughereds. Amos Miller, a miner at Warrior, Ala., beat his wife to death over a trifling offense. He has been captured and will probably be lynched by the miners in the district. Charley Albritton, Primis Davis and Jeff Powers, three negroes attending a big camp-meeting in Montgomery County, Ala., were killed by lightning while sitting in a buggy.

The striking mobs in Paris yesterday sacked and set on fire Coquett's weaving establishment. They prevented the firemen from working until they were seattered by a troop of soldiers with drawn swords. Capt.
